Your First Week with a New Client

Start strong. A smooth first week builds trust fast.

Day 1: Kick-off call questions

☐ What are your top 3 priorities this week?
☐ How do you want updates, and how often? (EOD, Slack, email)
☐ Which tools and accounts will I use?
☐ What are my working hours, and what time zone do you use?
☐ Who do I contact if you are unavailable?
☐ What does a great result look like after 30 days?

Day 1: Access and security

☐ Get logins through a password manager (Bitwarden, 1Password, LastPass)
☐ Turn on 2-step verification for every work account
☐ Use a separate browser profile for each client
☐ Never save client passwords in chat or notes apps
☐ Confirm what you are NOT allowed to touch

Days 2 to 5

☐ Day 2 to 3: do the first tasks and ask questions in 1 or 2 batches a day
☐ Send an EOD report every shift
☐ Day 4: write a simple SOP for 1 repeated task
☐ Day 5: weekly summary and ask "What should I do more or less of?"

SAMPLE EOD REPORT

Done today: replied to 14 inquiries, updated 32 contacts in the CRM, booked 2 calls.
In progress: lead list for Melbourne plumbers (60%).
Need from you: access to the Facebook page inbox.

HABITS · VA 101 EP 28

First week: do and don't

Small habits clients notice in week 1.

Situation	Don't	Do
Passwords	Ask for them in chat or email	Use a shared password manager vault
Questions	Message one question at a time all day	Batch questions twice a day
Updates	Wait for the client to ask	EOD report every shift
Mistakes	Hide them and hope	Tell them early with your fix
Unclear task	Guess and redo it later	Repeat back what you understood
Availability	Go offline without notice	Share your schedule and stick to it

End of week 1 checklist

☐ All accesses work and are saved in the password manager
☐ 2-step verification is on
☐ You know the top 3 priorities for next week
☐ You sent a weekly summary
☐ You have at least 1 SOP written
