AI Training Jobs: Legit or Scam?

AI training work is real. So are the scams that copy it. Check before you apply.

Legit AI training work	Scam pretending to be an AI job
You applied on the official website	A DM on Telegram or WhatsApp, even if you never applied
There is a qualification test	Big pay with no test at all
Free to join, always	Activation fee, deposit or "training kit"
Paid by PayPal or bank transfer	Paid in crypto or gift cards
ID checks happen inside the official platform	They ask for your ID and bank details in chat

Task type	What you do
Rating	Pick the better AI answer and explain why
Writing	Write a correct answer or a good prompt
Labeling	Tag text, images or audio
Language	Check Tagalog or English answers

Platforms many people start with: DataAnnotation, Outlier, Scale AI, Appen, TELUS Digital AI Community, Toloka, Turing. Country access, pay and project volume change often, so check each official site and read recent worker reviews before you apply.

START SAFELY · VA AT AI EP 6

Your AI training starter plan

Treat it as extra income, not a full-time job. Tasks can stop for days or weeks.

Before you apply

☐ Make a separate email just for applications
☐ Type the official website yourself, never click links from DMs
☐ Apply to 2 to 3 platforms, not 20
☐ Never pay any fee to start

During the test

☐ Read the guidelines twice
☐ Take your time, quality matters more than speed
☐ Use your strengths: language, finance, medical, coding
